

Regulatory status of Neurotechnologies

FDA approved

This means that a neurotechnology has been tested repeatedly for its safety and effectiveness for a disease

Humanitarian Device Exemption

This means that the neurotechnology has been granted special approval for treatment in rare cases

Clinical Trials

This means that the neurotechnology is still being examined and researched for its effectiveness and safety for a disease